PRICE 5 CENTS

ALAMOGORDO WON FOURTH POSITION

Got 15 Points Out of 117 at El Paso Saturday

SECOND ANNUAL NOT LARGELY ATTENDED

The Alamogordo High School track team went down to El Paso last Friday to compete in the second annual meet of the Southwestern Federation. The fact that our boys were able to carry off 15 points out of the 117, when the circumstances are known, speaks mighty well for the team. Alamogordo had five men upon which the entire work fell, as against the El Paso Y. M. C. A., with a membership of about 200 from which to select the contestants.

First place was won by the El Paso Y. M. C. A. with 41 1-6 points; A. and M. college second with 32 5-6 points; El Paso High School third, 24 points; Alamogordo High School fourth, 15 points, and Socorro fifth with only three points to its credit.

The Alamogordo team scored in the several events as follows: High jump—Fred Saulsberry first, 5 feet 3 inches.

Broad jump—Fred Saulsberry second, 18 feet 9 1/2 inches.

High hurdles—Fred Saulsberry second.

Pole vault—Floyd Haynes second, 9 feet 10 inches.

440 Yard dash—Douglas Phillips third.

The shield won by the Y. M. C. A. is made of oak and bronze being heavily embossed and inscribed with the words, "Winner of Track and Field Meet, S. W. A. F., 1911." The gold medal offered the individual scoring the greatest number of points went to Kuhn of the El Paso High School. The silver and bronze medals were presented to the first and second men in each event and the third man was given in each instance a blue ribbon embossed with bronze and gold.

Those who accompanied the team were Prof. C. D. George, Mr. and Mrs. Will Pelphrey, Hawley Leonard, Sam Swope Dr. J. G. Holmes, W. C. Haynes, Carl Haynes, Miss Higason and John Tweed.

They report the attendance at the meet just fair. The treatment of the team was very satisfactory, although there were one or two complaints registered by Alamogordo on account of fouling by other contestants. Had these been allowed, as they should, Alamogordo would have made a different showing. An injury to Elmo Haynes' foot rendered him unfit for running.

Saw the Bullets Fly

Prof. C. D. George returned from El Paso Monday. While there he had a fine opportunity to witness some of the fighting. He was located near the depot and with the aid of a glass was able to see some of the action.

One stray bullet struck within 10 or 12 feet from him, and then he thought it time to make himself scarce, and wisely returned to home and safety.

Hawley Leonard was still there when he left.

T. F. Kelsh was here from Cloudercroft last Friday night.

BEETHOVEN MUSIC CLUB HAS RECITAL

High School Auditorium Filled Last Friday Evening

ROSTRUM BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED WITH ROSES

The Beethoven music Club, composed of Miss Maud Davis' pupils, gave its first duet recital Friday evening at the High School auditorium. In response to invitations, the room was filled when the program began. The rostrum was fairly hidden by the countless beautiful roses.

The background was composed of ferns and roses, and on a pedestal directly in front rested the bronze bust of that celebrated musician, Beethoven.

The program was long, containing 19 numbers, but there was not a weary moment during the entire evening, so enjoyable was each number. Miss Davis favored with two excellent selections—one a piano solo, Opus 13 by Ludwig van Beethoven, and a vocal solo "Felice," by Lieurance. In each instance she showed her rare ability as a talented and skillful musician. They were heartily enjoyed, and received liberal applause.

Rocky Glen, two step, by Margaret Fairchild, was a pretty thing and gave the little Miss an opportunity to show her accomplishments.

Ida polka by Oren Frasier and Lillian polka by Lillian Shields, were very pleasing numbers.

A reading by little Vici Fairchild, entitled "My Doll," was very cute and was loudly applauded. Miss Mattie Blakley pleased the audience with a pretty piano selection, as did also John Tweed. He also sang "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie," in a pleasing manner.

Miss Margaret Shields, played "The Serpentine Dance," and was accorded liberal applause for her fine work.

The two vocal solos of Miss Julia McKee, were features of the program. The encore was as good as the first number.

Piano selections by Lilly Denny and Edwin Frasier were two fine numbers and pleased the audience immensely.

"How Rubenstine Played," by Clyde Beecher, that prince of young entertainers, was the humorous hit of the evening. Clyde rightfully wears a gold medal as the best in Otero county. His work Friday night was no exception and the long and continued applause forced him to return and render a few more humorous bits. It was fine.

Master Dudley Hulett rendered "Sweet Clover Waltz," on the piano in a careful and pleasing way and then accompanied his little sister Miss Dorothy, while she sweetly sang in her baby voice "Just a Bunch of Flowers" and "Sing, Robin, Sing." The two little folks received liberal applause for their efforts.

Julia McKee was just as pleasing at the piano as in her vocal selection. She gave the Andante, Allegretto and Allegro by Altman. Her work showed careful and efficient training. Pearl Frasier rendered "Qui Vive Gallop" by Ganz very nicely and it was appreciated by the large audience.

THE FIGHT IS OVER; JUAREZ HAS FALLEN

KILLED AND WOUNDED NUMBERS UP INTO THE HUNDREDS

Soldiers Strip Off Their Uniforms and Leave Them by the Roadside to Show They Had Renounced Their Allegiance to the Federal Government.

Navarro is a Prisoner of War; Madero is Triumphant Victor

From El Paso Herald, Wednesday night, May 10.

The federal soldiers after surrendering to the insurgents, stripped off their uniforms and threw them away. The street leading down from the cuartel to the city prison and municipal offices, to which point the prisoners were marched, is full of uniforms cast aside by the men after the surrender. The prisoners are in their underclothes.

They did this to show the insurgents that they had renounced their allegiance to the federal government. Gen. Navarro and his officers are the only prisoners wearing uniforms.

An automobile decorated in the Mexican colors has been sent to Madero's camp to take him triumphantly into Juarez.

It is declared by many witnesses that about 9:30 this morning Gen. Navarro, followed by about 75 officers and men, made a hurried exit down the National Railway tracks. This indicated to many of the soldiers on duty, that the day had been lost, and may have accounted for the retreat which followed shortly after.

Gen. Navarro later returned after encountering a large band of insurgents south of Juarez, establishing his forces at the garraion.

Col. Garibaldi and Raoul Madero are guarding the general. Navarro and his whole staff are prisoners in the commandant's room at the cuartel.

He said he did not know how many were wounded.

The strain of three days' battle has told on the veteran Navarro, who lost the battle of Juarez and is now a prisoner. He looks tired and much older, as if the strain had added years to his already ripe age. Col. Garibaldi says he does not know what the old general's fate will be.

little piece entitled "The Bumble Bee," and the loud applause proved that he made a hit.

Lucile O'Reilly gave "Melody of Love," by Engleman. Her work on the piano was very good and she came in for her share of the liberal applause accorded the musicians. Ferris Eldridge closed the program with "Autumn Days" by Chas. Lindsey. He showed careful study and efficient training. His work was well done.

Miss Davis has every reason to feel proud of her Beethoven Music Club, and in years to come should each continue the study of music, will make a bright mark in the musical world.

Sad But Quite True

Did you ever hear of a man trying to lift an unfortunate woman when she had fallen from the pedestal of honor and virtue? Nary a lift. Too much Adamic blood still creeping through our polluted veins. When once a woman trips and falls from her high and honored place, she lands in hell from which no human will stoop to lift her; husband and father, brother and son are deaf to her cries from that hour. But on the other hand; I have seen men as low as is possible for men to fall; I have seen the wife lift the husband from the gutter and press him to her heart, while tears of sympathy, love and anguish trickled down her cheeks. I have seen the wife follow the husband through life in one constant whirl of misery and misfortune, and when at last, by the gates of hell they are separated, she would stand and wring her hands because she could go no further. I have seen the mother follow a son through paths of crime, vice shame and degradation, through which a man was never known to follow a woman. Why? Let the Angels of Heaven be the jury and God Almighty be the judge.—Selected.

Pullman Conductor is Worth Million

A million dollar Pullman car conductor runs through El Paso on the Golden State limited between Chicago and Los Angeles. He is R. A. Hepner, who owns a large chunk of the famous Bakersfield oil field at Bakersfield, Cal. Together with his brother, conductor Hepner bought a section of land in the oil field before it was developed. The purchase price was little more than the price of a moving picture show per acre. When oil was discovered underlying the land he was given a precolored $1,000,000 for his rights in the holding. He took it without any cross questioning and has salted it down and continues to make his run on the limited regularly.—El Paso Herald.

HIGH ROLLS HOSTLERY TO BE OPENED SATURDAY

Big Turkey Dinner, Music and Dancing Party

SPECIAL TRAIN AND RATE FROM ALAMOGORDO

High Rolls, summer resort, bigger and better than ever before—as they say of the circus—will formally open the season of 1911 next Saturday. Mrs. Bertha B. Neal, who is proprietor of the new hotel, will serve a turkey dinner at half past six in the evening, to be followed by dancing. She has asked The News to extend the most cordial invitation to all of her friends in Otero county.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Roe and Mr. Evans, an arrangement has been made for a special train and a special party rate. The train will leave Alamogordo at 3:30 p. m., arriving at High Rolls about 5:15 in plenty of time for the visitors to inspect the big resort before dinner. Returning, the train will leave High Rolls immediately after the dance. The round trip rate is $1.50, and the dinner and dance will cost fifty cents, making the total cost of the trip $2.00. Prof. Y. Galindo's orchestra from here will furnish the music.

There will be sixty or more people in the party from here and there will be another party from Cloudercroft. There is a vast deal of enthusiasm being displayed over the prospective trip, and it is all right for them to be just as enthusiastic as they may, for they have no chance to be disappointed.

Luncheon Sardines

Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add one third of a cupful of soft stale bread-crumbs and stir until well blended; then add one cupful of rich milk. Bring to the boiling-point and add two hard-boiled eggs finely chopped and one small box of sardines freed from bones and separated into small pieces. Again bring to the boiling-point and season with salt, pepper and paprika. Serve on piece of buttered toast and garnish with toast points and parsley if it be at hand. Good for a chafing-dish supper.—Woman's Home Companion for May.

His Horse Fell on Him

Ben Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snell met with what might have proven a serious accident. As it was the boy escaped with the ligaments of the right foot severely strained.

He was riding his pony on New York avenue and the horse was running. When it came on to the cement crossing at Tenth street, the horse slipped and fell, catching Ben's foot under its side. The injured lad was taken to Dr. McKinley's office and an examination made, with the result as above stated. While the injury was quite painful, it is not serious.

Jernigan—Watt

At the Grace M. E. parsonage Wednesday noon, May 10, the pastor, Rev. Ed. Le Breton pronounced the marriage vows which linked the lives of Curtis Jernigan and Nettie Watt, both of Otero county.

CABBAGE APHIS AND ITS EXTERMINATION

Horticultural Department of New Mexico Suggests

PRACTICAL REMEDIES IT HAS FOUND GOOD

The cabbage aphis or louse is one of the worst pests the grower of this crop has to contend with in New Mexico. The aphis is a sucking insect and must be combated with a contact spray. It is a bluish-gray color, of an oval shape, being a little larger than the head of a common pin. They make their appearance in early summer on the plant, and are usually found on the under surface of the leaves. Their presence on the plant may be easily detected by the edge of the infested leaf curling up.

The aphides live in colonies, and multiply very rapidly. Unless checked, they soon spread over the entire plant and either kill it or cause it to head very poorly.

Remedies.—There are quite a number of remedies recommended for use against the aphids. The Horticultural Department of the New Mexico Experiment Station has used several of these remedies, and has found some of them to be both practical and effective. They are made and used as follows:

No. 1. Kerosene Emulsion. Dissolve 1-2 pound of laundry soap in 1 gallon of hot water. Then add, away from the fire, 2 gallons of kerosene. Churn this mixture until white and of the consistency of cream. After the oil and soap have been thoroughly emulsified, add 25 gallons of water, and apply as a spray or with a stiff paint brush or swab. It is important that the mixture be thoroughly emulsified. On indication of injury to plant, dilute the emulsion with more water.

No. 2. Whale-Oil Soap. Dissolve 2 1/2 ounces in 1 gallon of hot water, and apply while still warm, as a spray or with a stiff paint brush or swab.

No. 3. Tobacco Water is used frequently as a remedy for plant lice. Boil for 1/2 hour 1 pound of tobacco dust or stems in 1 gallon of water, and use as a spray or wash without diluting.

No. 4. Tobacco Dust is also quite effective for combating cabbage lice. This dust is applied with a bellows blower, or may be shaken on the plant with a pepper box. The blower gives the better results of the two, as it puts the material on with more force.

No. 5. Hot water or strong soap suds heated to a temperature of 130 to 140 degrees Fahrenheit may be used effectively.

Consult Your Label

We have been rearranging our mailing list this week and have put the town list in type. We expect soon to do so with the entire list. We would ask our town readers to consult the date on the label on your paper, and if found incorrect, please call and let us adjust the matter. Now is the time to do this while the matter is fresh in your memory. We want the date on your label exactly correct.
